When Commonwealth started this project it was only an empty lot. The client wanted to make a house that would blend into historic Savannah while at the same time utilize the very narrow and long lot in the most efficient way. The end result was a very beautiful house that feels so much bigger than it really is.

{gallery}110Duffy{/gallery}